Enduring Understanding(s):
Opinion writing comes in various forms, but is always intended to convince the reader of a point of view.

Writers can influence a reader by supporting their point of view with convincing reasons and evidence supported by facts.

Writing your opinion in an organized way helps a reader understand your ideas.

Essential Question(s):

Common Core Standards

Text Type and Purposes
1. Write opinion pieces on topics or texts, supporting a point of view with reasons.
   a. Introduce the topic or text they are writing about, state an opinion, and create an organizational structure that lists reasons.
   b. Provide reasons that support the opinion.
   c. Use linking words and phrases (e.g., because, therefore, since, for example) to connect opinion and reasons.
   d. Provide a concluding statement or section.

Production and Distribution of Writing
4. With guidance and support from adults, produce writing in which the development and organization are appropriate to task and purpose. (Grade-specific expectations for writing types are defined in standards 1–3.)
5. With guidance and support from peers and adults, develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, and editing. (Editing for conventions should demonstrate command of Language standards 1–3 up to and including grade 3 on page 14.)
6. With guidance and support from adults, use technology to produce and publish writing (using keyboarding skills) as well as to interact and collaborate with others.

Range of Writing
10. Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of discipline-specific tasks, purposes, and audiences.

Assessment
This assessment will be an on-demand – that is, it aims to assess kids’ ability to independently read informational texts and construct a written argument that incorporates multiple sources of information. The assessment will consist of three tasks; the final product will be a restaurant review for a local newspaper.

Directions for administrations, student testing booklet, and Common Core Aligned opinion writing rubrics will be provided by the district.

Mentor Texts for Opinion Writing

The mentor text list below is not exhaustive; it’s intended to serve as a list of recommendations of texts to be read aloud, used for craft study, or to spark writing topics or ideas.

Students will also need access to short nonfiction articles so they can identify an author’s argument/claim and identify the evidence the author uses to support their claim. The Time for Kids articles listed below are intended to spark debate and help students begin to develop arguments on topics that matter to them.
